Dear Music and Art Lovers,

The latest track from our album Visa for a Direct Object looks into the sun. The album documents and celebrates this moment of multicultural collaboration in the Global Miami landscape.

Our New Single Is Here

 Alma Mia sees the light.

We are pleased to present this version of Alma Mía by Maria Grever, with an extended response to the original version. The track, a freestyle bolero, tells the story of a soul that feels alone in the world, and reaches, silently, for another soul who might understand it.

☀ Score of the Month

The Nueva Trova movement has developed with a very wide field in terms of diversity of rhythms and genres. “El Breve Espacio En que no Estás” by Pablo Milanés is one of the most representative love songs of this movement.

Alberto's arrangement is now available in our store.

Sound of Intention

This month, we spotlight a flamenco guitar crafted by Tomás Sánchez and offered through Bill Glez Guitars. With Indian Rosewood back and sides, a German Spruce top, and a Spanish Cedar neck finished with French polish, this guitar balances warmth, clarity, and precision, ideal for the expressive guitarist. If you're seeking an instrument that responds to your nuance and improves your interpretation, we invite you to explore it here.
